Maps of the Olympic Games

Maps of the Olympic Games

Color insert, The Legend, Spring 2002, issue 20

Perhaps no sporting events capture the imagination and excitement as much as the games of the Olympiad. Held as summer and winter events, a number of maps have been issued with an Olympic theme. Most contained information about the games, schedule, location, etc. Some just used the theme to illustrate the cover. Thanks to Ian Byrne, Richard Horwitz and Dave Leach for the map images on this page.

1932 Los Angeles

Standard of California pictures a runner on its California map; Diamond shows routes to Los Angeles as well as photos on its map; Union Oil issued a beautifully illustrated map of Los Angeles; Texaco issued a guide to the games with maps of the area.

1936 Berlin

The German company, Leuna, issued a map of Berlin with the Olympic site on the back cover. Shell Oil Co. (US) issued a guidebook to these games.

1950 Helsinki

An Esso map of Finland with cover illustration of the Olympic stadium.

1956 Melbourne

Map of the Melbourne area with Olympic information, issued by Mobil. The Pegasus appears inside but not on the cover.

1960 Rome

Esso map of Italy with the Olympic logo and map of Rome with Olympic sites shown. BP and Shell maps are of Rome with Olympic information.

1960 Squaw Valley

Shell map showing the Olympic sites and information. Union also issued a map for these games.

1964 Innsbruck

Esso issued this regional map with detail of the Olympic area.

1968 Grenoble

Esso and Total issued maps of the site with information.

1972 Munich

BP's map of Munich showed the game venues, Shell's map contained game information as well.

1984 Los Angeles

Arco issued a guide to the games primarily for TV viewers. Maps of the region and location maps for each competition were included.
